

Argentina Communications Green Base Station Follow-up

Overview

Should the new government look at China's Argentine Space Station?

Still, the new government should look closely at China's Argentine space station. Javier Milei's presidential victory in Argentina may be a turning point in the country's relations with China. Initially, Milei was critical of China and skeptical of international trade blocs.

Why is China building a space tracking base in Argentina?

China's space tracking base construction in the heart of Argentina creates concerns about regional dynamics and national security, for both Argentina and the US.

Why did Argentine government visit space stations in Neuquén & Mendoza?

Amid heightened international scrutiny, the Argentine government has concluded technical visits to space stations in Neuquén and Mendoza, fostering cooperation and quelling concerns over potential military activities by its Chinese partners.

Does Argentina have a 'space station' built on Argentine soil?

Argentina's effort to distance itself from China is becoming increasingly evident. It is now serious about conducting a formal inspection of a Chinese "space station" built on Argentine soil.

Why is China launching a deep space station in Argentina?

Officially, the Deep Space Station operated by China in Argentina is primarily intended to "support activities such as interplanetary exploration, astronomical observation, and satellite tracking and control in orbit." However, the facility raises concerns both domestically and regarding security in the United States.

Is Argentina worried about China's Neuquén Deep Space Station?

Over the past decade, Argentina's national security experts, government officials, press, technical experts, military and aerospace enthusiasts, and public have voiced concerns about China's Neuquén Deep Space Station.
