

Chad high voltage containerized power generation

Overview

How does Chad generate electricity?

Chad currently generates electricity by consuming oil. With the declining cost of new solar generation plants, the Government of Chad and development partners have prioritized solar power throughout the country. Machinery and parts for electricity transmission and distribution are also in demand. Opportunities.

What is the standard voltage in Chad?

The standard voltage in Chad is 220 V. (In Chad, the standard voltage is 220 V and the frequency is 50 Hz. You can use your electric appliances in Chad if the standard voltage in your country is in between 220 - 240 V. Manufacturers take these small deviations into account.).

Why is Chad a good place to invest in solar power?

Chad's location in the Sahel, which features brilliant sunshine especially during the dry season, and lack of alternate fuel sources such as coal make solar power an attractive export and investment sector. Chad currently generates electricity by consuming oil.

Why is electrification important in Chad?

The Government of Chad and development partners like the World Bank are prioritizing electrification to promote economic growth and inclusion. Per capita electricity consumption is one of lowest in the world and tariffs are among the highest.

Are containerized generators reliable?

Years of use in the rental, oil and gas, mining and other heavy-duty industries have tested the reliability, usability and durability of our containerized generators. Our primary design challenges in developing this line of containerized generators were usability, reliability and functionality for the end user.
