

Overview

What's new in the Ethio telecom report?

The report includes new Telecom Maturity Indexes charts and analyses, Ethio Telecom data up to June 2021, and an assessment of the global impact of Covid-19 on the telecoms sector. Recent market developments are also covered in the report.

How was Ethiopia's telecom market opened up?

Ethiopia's telecom market was opened up with the licensing of the Safaricom-led Global Partnership for Ethiopia consortium. The country had been one of the last in Africa to allow its national telco a monopoly on all telecom services including fixed, mobile, internet and data communications.

What is happening in Ethiopia 2025?

In 2025, the Government promotes the Digital Ethiopia strategy in collaboration with the Internet Society. The tendering process to sell a 40% stake in Ethio Telecom begins. The Government launches mobile apps as part of the e-Government Directorate and announces a plan for a $3 billion technology city.

What is Ethio Telecom?

Ethio Telecom is the telecom company in Ethiopia. It has mostly relied on ZTE and Huawei for its mobile platform and has placed the expansion of LTE services as a cornerstone of its investment program to 2022. However, the new licensee has been barred from contracting Chinese vendors, opening the door to western vendors.
