What type of glass is used to build a sunroom?

This will give you a better idea of what type of glass is being used to build your room. A truly insulated sunroom is built using double-pane glass - never single pane glass. Between the layers of glass is usually an inert gas such as Argon, which provides a barrier to insulate the room from outside temperatures.

Is triple paned glass suitable for a sunroom?

For a homeowner in an extreme climate, triple paned glass is a good choice for insulating a sunroom inside. For a homeowner in a mild climate, double paned glass may be sufficient to keep the sunroom comfortable.

What to consider before choosing sunroom window glass?

What to consider before choosing your sunroom window glass. How quality glass sunroom windows can increase your home's value. Sunrooms can be comprised of anywhere from 75-90% framed glass. Beyond the old adage about throwing stones, there are some fairly serious implications involved in how sunroom glass is manufactured and treated.

Should you build a sunroom with floor-to-ceiling glass?

To maximize a great outdoor view from your home, a sunroom with floor-to-ceiling glass, also called a solarium, could be the right choice for you. This special sunroom has wall-to-wall glass as well as a glass roof. Where you choose to build your sunroom will also help determine which type of glass makes the most sense for your unique project.

What makes a sunroom special?

Homeowners who have a sunroom often say it's their favorite room in the house. What makes a sunroom so special is its walls of windows and bright natural light. It's a place to lay low, bask in the sun and enjoy nature from the comfort of your home. Windows are the focal point of any sunroom.
